Why We ♥ The Trails At Andrews University

TRAIL NOTES

Long regarded as a well-kept local secret, The Trails at Andrews have been slowly developed into what is now a challenging 12-mile mountain bike system that attracts adventure-seekers from across state borders. Andrews University added a dedicated parking lot, making the trails easy to find and access, and plans are in place for a color-coded map that will make identifying loops easier. Cyclists love the cardio-challenging, handmade trails, made up of consistent small climbs that will get the blood pumping; hikers are similarly challenged while taking in gorgeous wildflower and forest views.

Campsite Options, Entry Fees, & Parking Costs

Access to the parking lot and trails are both free. No camping allowed. Note to hikers: the trails are shared, so step aside if you see two wheels approaching.
